As ticklish as when one's wife shaves the back of one's neck.

* * * *

Which all reminds us of the quotation from someone or other, who remarked:

* * * *

"The man worth while, is the man who can smile when his wife is shaving his neck."

* * * *

Of course, this is all in good clean fun. Heh! heh!

* * * *

Oh these clear, moonlight nights. Richmond is the most beautiful city in the state.

* * * *

From a height one can see the waters of the bay, rippling and glittering under the caress of the soft beams of the moon.

* * * *

Across the bay one see's the glittering lights of San Francisco . . . . the colored light of the ferry building tower . . . . navigation lights . . . . riding lights of steamers.

* * * *

To the left is Oakland . . . a glittering jewel . . . .

* * * *

Still . . . . calm . . . the smell of salt air . . . . soft breezes . . . .

* * * *

And some people go to Europe for scenery . . . . and rave about Venice in the moonlight.

* * * *

Sections from insect life include the apartment renters who complain about the noise their neighbors make while coming through the hall . . . .

* * * *

And then they throw a party that lasts until two o'clock in the morning . . . . and keep the whole house awake . . . . singing . . . . talking . . . . shouting . . . .

* * * *

There should be a law . . .

* * * *

Prize bright crack of the week was pulled by a certain party upon being shown a prize piece of Javanese batik.

* * * *

Said batik shows six women whose forms have been woven into the cloth. Their arms hang rather low—in fact they almost touch the ground.

* * * *

"Huh," remarked this party, to whom art isn't sacred or anything, "they must have played pee wee golf in Java thousands of years ago."

Hoffman Will Attend Meet

The council last evening appointed City Engineer E. A. Hoffman to represent Richmond at the conference of officials of the east bay cities to formulate plans respecting the new transbay bridge.

There are many problems that will have to be worked out and presented to the bridge commission. One of them is the height of the span on the east bay side, another is the arrangement of streets to take care of the immense traffic that will flow over the bridge.

City Pool Is Well Attended

Nearly 15,0000 patronized the municipal bathhouse during the month of July, according to the report of City Manager J. A. McVittie filed with the city council last night.

The exact number of paid admissions were 14,354. The receipts for the month were $5419.55.

Street Lights Ordered By City

On the recommendation of Councilman A. L. Paulsen of the light committee, the city council last night ordered street lights installed at the corner of Twentieth and Pennsylvania and Carlston and Macdonald.

COUNCILMEN IN HEATED DEBATE

The public liability and property damage insurance of the city of Richmond was last night awarded to the Union Automobile company, represented by A. J. H. Otten of this city, at a saving of $1,478.54.

There was a spirited debate over the contract, and a protest was filed by a group of insurance agents, claiming that as conference companies they could not comply with the specifications that had been issued.

This protest was signed by the M. A. Hays company, H. O. Watson, H. A. Johnston, B. E. Scoble, H. C. Soito, Burg Bros., Mrs. W. H. Sanford, F. A. Moitoza and Sydney H. Gnaga.

Five bids had been presented by conference and non-conference companies as follows:

Travelers Insurance company, represented by W. J. Richards, Jr., $2,577.80.

Indemnity company of North America, represented by Merry, Mylander and Alderson, $2,462.34.

Continental Indemnity company of North America, represented by J. B. Baldwin, $1,868.30.

Pacific Indemnity company, represented by Boone and Clark, $1,681.93.

Union Automobile Insurance company, represented by A. J. H. Otten, $1,099.26.

Councilman Walter Jornson then moved the contract be awarded to the Indemnity company of North America, which was the second highest bid, claiming that the low bid was not a responsible one, and the city should get the best insurance possible.

Councilman Hartnett questioned the wisdom of the motion, as there was such a variance in the different bids.

Councilman George F. Imbach, said trat the council could not take cognizance of whether a company was a "conference" company. All of these companies had complied with the regulations of the state insurance company commissioner. He contended that either one of two things should be done, accept the lowest bid or reject all bids.

Then came the roll call to award the contract to the Indemnity Company of North America. The motion was lost by the following vote: Ayes—Scott, Hinkley, Johnson; Noes—Paulsen, Fenner, Chandler, Imbach, Hartnett.

Hartnett's motion, which was seconded by Chandler to award the contract to the lowest bidder, the Union Automobile Insurance company was carried by the following vote: Ayes — Paulsen, Fenner, Chandler, Imbach, Hartnett; Noes—Scott, Johnson, Hinkley.

COTTAGE TO BE BUILT HERE

Another new cottage is to be built in Richmond.

The second permit for a cottage to be issued this month was granted to E. S. Anderson by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley yesterday.

The new building is to be located on McBryde avenue, between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets. It will cost $3500.

The owner will do the work.

Firebug Hunted In S. F. Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—UP—Candles placed under the woodwork of the Stephen Nagy residence here were believed by police to have started the fire that partly destroyed the house early this morning. Nagy previously had received threatening letters.

PLUMBING REPORT

The monthly report of the plumbing inspector filed with the city council last night showed permits issued and fees to the amount of $62.25 collected.

WEATHER

Fair and mild today and tomorrow, but with high fog in early morning; moderate west winds.

ONE BID ON PULLMAN AVE. WORK GIVEN TO COUNCIL

The Union Paving company of San Francisco, whose secretary is A. Lawton, was the only bidder at the meeting of the city council last night for the improvement of Pullman avenue from Cutting to Potrero.

Although the bid was referred to the city engineer for one week, it was figured up and amounts to a trifle over $132,000.

This is to be a heavy traffic street and will join on to Panhandle boulevard.

LOCAL PLANT HIRES 100 MEN

More than 100 men werre employed at the enamel works of the Standard Sanitary plant here yesterday when part-time operations were resumed.

According to Irvin Hovgaard, manager of the plant, the employes will work on a three day a week basis.

This week the men will work Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

As the work orders pile up, the work at the local plant will increase until it has resumed full time schedule, it was announced.

At the pottery works the men have been working a full six days for the past six weeks.

Phelan Funeral Held Yesterday

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—UP—Thousands of San Franciscans attended funeral services today at St. Ignatius church for Former Senator James D. Phelan, who died last week. Honorary pallbearers included Governor C. C. Young, Mayor James Rolph Jr., Senator Samuel Shortridge and countless other notables representing municipal, state and national organizations. Following the funeral services the casket was placed in the family vault at Holy Cross cemetery.

Santa Fe R. R. Granted Permit

The Santa Fe railroad was granted a permit by the city council last night to construct a spur track from its main line, crossing Enterprise avenue and Seventh street. This will connect with a six acre tract of land of the railroad's that is suitable for industrial purposes.

Also at the request of the Santa Fe a portion of Canal street was ordered closed.

Women Capture Woman Burglar

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—UP—A young woman burglar was captured today after a rough and tumble fight with two women whose apartment she was caught ransacking. Miss Etta Kenyon and Miss Lila Kennedy returned to their apartment and found Miss Frankie Wills, 24, in the room with a male companion. The man escaped but the two women "tackled" the female burglar and held her until police arrived.

Ryan Withdraws Divorce Action

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Aug. 11.—UP—A divorce suit of Thomas Fortune Ryan, Jr., was dismissed in district court here late today after the plaintiff explained there was no foundation or justification for the charges of cruelty and habitual intemperance brought against Mrs. Mary Ryan.

Health Report Given To City

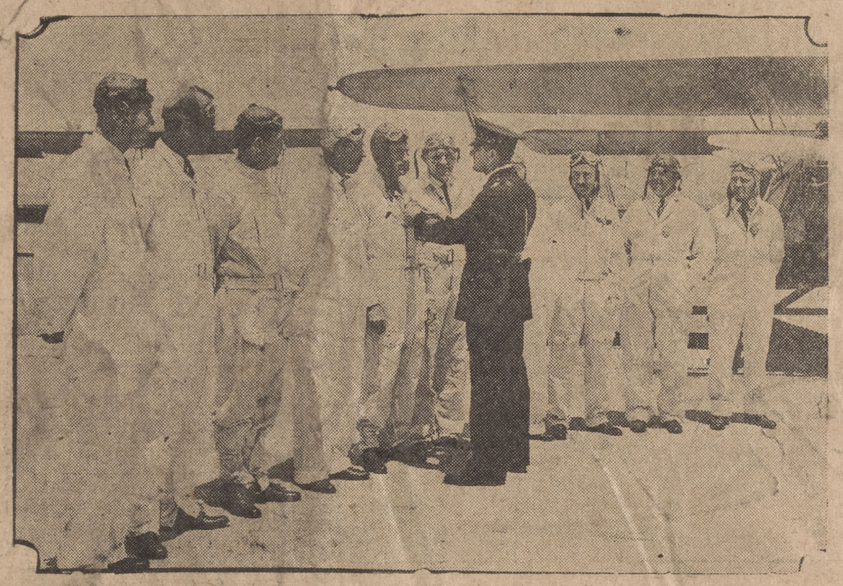
The number of deaths reported totaled 14.

L. A. Aerial Police



THIS GROUP of fliers were recently named as aerial policemen by Chief of Police Roy Steckel of Los Angeles.

RYAN RITES HELD TODAY

Final rites in honor of the late George W. Ryan, Richmond and Albany newspaper publisher, who dropped dead on the streets of Albany Saturday night from a heart attack, will be held in Oakland at three o'clock this afternoon. The services will be held at the Truman undertaking parlors and interment will be in Sunset View cemetery.

Ryan, 73 years of age, had gone to a store in Albany and was returning to his home at 729 Talbot street when he was stricken. It is believed that injuries sustained in an automobile accident two months ago contributed to the attack.

A native of Iowa, Ryan came to California 33 years ago and engaged in the newspaper business. In 1912 he bought the Richmond Terminal a weekly newspaper from Dr. Charles Brown, which he has published since. In 1915 he established the Albany Argus, another weekly, which he also published until his death. He has resided in Richmond for several years.

He was a member of the Albany Rotary club, and the Typographical Union, being a printer for some time.

Ryan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Laura H. Ryan of Albany, two sons, Thomas G. Ryan of Richmond who had been associated with his father in the publishing business; Sidney E. Ryan of San Jose, and a sister, Mrs. Jennie Pritzer of Albany.

Schools Open In Richmond

Although no official tabulation of the registration of the Richmond public schools has yet been made, Superintendent of schools Walter T. Helms yesterday announced that what reports he had received indicated a slight increase in enrollment over last year's registration.

Yesterday was chiefly devoted to arranging classes and preparing for the ensuing semester, Helms declared, and complete enrollments were not available last night.

St. George Sons Invited To City

By a unanimous vote, the city council last night adopted a resolution addressed to the state convention of the order of Sons of St. George, now in session at Los Angeles, asking that body to meet in Richmond in 1931.

The resolution was passed at the request of Charles Badcock the secretary of the Richmond lodge of the order of Sons of St. George.

New Serial Starts In This Issue

A battalion of the Foreign Legion slumped wearily through the shimmering hot sands of the desert. Every sagging line of their fatigue ridden bodies told eloquently of the months of hand-to hand fighting they had just finished against savage Riff tribesmen.

This is just the starting paragraph of Hell's Island, the new serial story which starts this morning in the RECORD-HERALD.

Start the story this morning, and read it day by day in this paper. It has everything—love—adventure—hatred—death.

Vet To Attend National Meet

Enroute to attend two veteran national conventions and visit with a sister in Milwaukee, Herman Bremmer, west side resident left last night for a months trip to the east.

Bremmer will attend the national convention of the United Spanish War Veterans in Philadelphia which starts Aug. 17, and after visiting with a sister will attend the V. F. W. convention in Baltimore. He expects to return home about Sept. 9.

Three Babies Born At Local Hospital

The stork was a popular visitor at the Hospital Richmond over the past weekend, three babies being born.

On Saturday a boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alves, 547 Thirty-ninth street; and on Sunday daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walker, 141 Thirteenth street and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brundade of Rodeo.

Scout Jamboree To Be Planned

At a meeting of committeemen in Martinez Thursday night, plans for a Boy Scout jamboree to be held in Ostober will be made. All Scouts in the county are expected to participate.

Kiwanis To Hear Oakland Scribe

Members of the Richmond Kiwanis club will be entertained with a detailed description on the "Making of a Newspaper" at their meeting tomorrow, when J. E. Doyle, Oakland newspaper representative will be the speaker of the day.

Arthur Squier, Richmond newspaperman will be chairman of the day.

SEWER WORK STARTS HERE

Work on the new $140.000 sanitary sewer system was started by the contractors yesterday morning.

The new system will serve the industrial district now growing up on the inner harbor. The Ford Motor company, and the Filice and Ferrelli cannery are two of the plants that will be benefitted by the system.

Jasper-Stacey company are the contractors. It is expected that the project will be finished within four or five months.

The first part of the work to be done was at the Ford plant site. This is being done first in order that it will not delay the progress of the construction of the Ford plant.

The work now being done is a link in the proposed sewer system which will be built at a cost of more than a million dollars.

KEY SCORED FOR BUSSES

That Key System Transit company must run its busses to the Southern Pacific ferry according to the route laid out by the railroad commission, or not at all.

This was determined at the meeting of the city council last night when City Manager McVittie told the members that the company was cutting out the west side on its early morning runs, and going down Garrard boulevard direct to the ferry.

F. T. Patton of the westside, appeared and protested against the action of the transportation company, and wanted to know "who was running the city."

One Injured In Auto, Cycle Crash

I. N. Williams, of Clinton avenue, was slightly injured yesterday afternoon in a motorcycle-automobile accident at Forty-Second and Macdonald avenue.

According to police reports Williams was involved in a collision with a car driven by P. E. Cooper, 727 Wilson avenue.

Both the machine and motorcycle were slightly damaged.

Husband Files Suit For Divorce

MARTINEZ, Aug. 11.—A countersuit for divorce was today filed by Winston D. Goss of Richmond, charging his wife, Mrs. Mildred Goss with cruelty. T. N. Calfee is representing Goss and C. D. Horner is representing Mrs. Goss, who filed suit for divorce last week on the same grounds.

IMPROVEMENT IS MADE AT HIGH SCHOOL; NEW TEACHERS

Pupils of Richmond Union high school once more resumed the task of acquiring a high school education yesterday morning.

Approximately 1000 pupils started the fall semester yesterday. Enrollment figures have not yet been collected.

The high school faculty returned to the instruction of the students with but six changes in its ranks.

The additions to the teaching staff of the high school are: Lila Reeb, history; Marian Friedman, history; Margaret Broeberg, mathematics, Phyllis Carlson, commercial subjects; Frank Ribble, physical education and Mrs. Parker, physiology.

Many improvements upon the school buildings and grounds had taken place when school reopened yesterday morning.

The paving of the high school parking grounds is almost completed.

Rolling of a strip of land between the football stadium and the gymnasium is being done in preparation for the construction of tennis courts.

The football field has also been scraped and leveled in preparation for the coming grid season.

The floors of the gymnasium and halls were re-waxed during the summer vacation.

The pupils of Richmond high yesterday morning gathered at their first assembly of the fall season. Principal Bert X. Tucker instructed the pupils on matters pertaining to school routine. He also explained, by means of a chart, the new parking plan adopted by the faculty and Students association to avoid parking problems in the future.

Harry Transue, new president of the high school Student Body was then introduced to the assembly by Tucker. Transue urged the purchase of student body cards, and pointed out their benefits to the buyer.

Short talks on student body cards were also given by Darrow Sutton, vice president; William Outman, athletic manager; Glenn Conn commissioner of law and order; and Walter Thomas, former president.

Local Scots To Meet Wednesday

After an adjournment for the summer vacation, members of the St. Andrews society of Richmond and vicinity will gather for a regular monthly social evening in the Richmond clubhouse tomorrow night.

The affair will be presented by the women of the organization with Mrs. James Stuart, Mrs. Billie Brown and Mrs. Robert Small in charge of the arrangements.

It is expected that a number of Oakland and San Francisco members will be present to make a report on the combined picnic which is to be held in the Alvarado park Aug. 23.

Refreshments will be served and dancing will be enjoyed to tunes rendered by "Mac's" orchestra.

Physician To Address Lions

"What Modern Medicine Is Doing for Humanity" will be the subject of a talk to be delivered before the Richmond club at its meeting in the Hotel Carquinez today by Dr. W. B. Coffey, noted physician and co-discoverer of the Coffey-Humber cancer experiments.

Dr. L. H. Fraser will be chairman of the day and Miss Edna O'Keefe, entertainer with Radio KFRC will present vocal numbers.

Cramps Fatal To Swimmer

EUREKA, Aug. 11.—UP—An attack of cramps was fatal to William F. Betts, 27, who drowned today while swimming in the Eel. Betts, wife of the victim, made a heroic effort to rescue her husband but failed. Inquest will be held by Coroner Oscar Swanson.

LIGHT POWER INCREASE SEEN

Macdonald avenue, from First street to Twenty-Third street is to be made one of the bright streets of the city. The present lighting system on the avenue is entirely inadequate to the needs of Richmond.

The city council by action last night adopted plans and specifications for the work, and a resolution of intention. A hearing on the resolution will be had on Tuesday evening Sept. 2.

At the present time the lights on the avenue are but 400 candle power, and on account of the globes used they are but sixty per cent effective.

The plans adopted call for the installation of two additional lights at each intersection, and also stepping the lights up from 400 candle power as follows: from First to Sixth streets to 1,000, from Sixth to the Southern Pacific tracks to 1,500, and from the Southern Pacific to Twenty-Third street to 1,000.

TANDY NAMED AS PLANNER

Mayor A. B. Hinkley last night named George S. Tandy as a member of the city planning commission, and the appointment was confirmed by the council.

Tandy is a war veteran, a well known contractor being a member of the firm of Tandy & Theis, and is active in civic affairs.

The appointment was made to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of George N. Rooker, who is leaving in a short time for the east, where he has accepted a position with a public utility company.

Fliers Near New Record

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 11.—UP—Mechanical, physical and weather conditions tonight favored the breaking of the world's endurance flight record as Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine completed the 21 day of continuous flying in their monoplane Greater St. Louis.

The two comrades passed their 500th hour in the air at 3:11 a. m. Monday and will equal the record of 553 hours set by John and Kenneth Hunter early in July, at 8:53 a. m. Wednesday.

The weather was excellent, the Greater St. Louis' motor seemed to be working perfectly and the fliers message they were good for 1,000 hours.

City In Pact With Water Co.

In order to take care of the needs of future industries in the section south of Cutting boulevard, the city council last night took action looking to an agreement with the East Bay Municipal Utilities district, for the installation of additional water pipes

Under the plan 1,450 feet of 12-inch mains will be installed on Cutting from Third to Eighth streets and a 6-inch main on Third street, from Cutting to the south end of that street.

It is estimated that the total cost of the improvement will be $5,251.

K. C. Lodge Hears Talk On Mountains

Members of Berkeley Council, Knights of Columbus were entertained at their meeting in the Memorial hall last night by an interesting talk on mountain climbing by Oliver Kehrlein of Oakland. Kehrlein is an experienced mountain climber and his talk was well received by the audience.

Charles Ryan, Richmond lecturer was in charge of the meeting and refreshments were served by a committee headed by Jerry Riordan Jr., after the session.

REDDING NINE DEFEATED BY LOCALS

The Redding baseball aggregation found the Richmond Odd Fellows too great an obstacle in their path to an all-victory season record Sunday when the local lodgemen trounced them 14 to 6 on the Redding diamond.

A burning sun beamed down upon the Redding lot to make the Richmond boys, used to the strong winds of the eastbay, mighty uncomfortable. But their hitting ability came to the top in spite of the weather conditions.

Carl Kamb started in the box for the lodgemen. After chucking a fine brand of ball for six periods, he was relieved by Babich, who finished the game in nice form.

The three linkers did excellent work at the home plate last weekend. Joe Viano was the hard hitter of the local outfit, garnering two triples and two doubles out of six chances.

Doublas and Sulland alternated on the mound for the Redding squad, but were nicked for 19 hits by the local sluggers.

Richmond's victory was the first defeat suffered this year by Redding.

The Richmond athletes were given a royal reception at Redding. They were treated with a chicken dinner following the game, and punch was served them during the contest. They reported the Redding rreception as the best of their entire season.

HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM TO START PRACTICE FOR SEASON

The pigskin will again loom on the skyline of the Richmond Union high school gridiron tomorrow afternoon when the football athletes of the Red and Blue don their fighting togs for the first practice of the 1930 football season.

The first scheduled practice will take place tomorrow afternoon, when Phil Hempler and Frank Ribbel, athletic coaches at Richmond high, start whipping a first class varsity into shape in preparation for a particularly heavy seasen.

The first contest of the year will be staged against Oakland Technical High school on Aug. 29 here. On Sept. 5, University High will send its eleven warriors to Richmond, and on Sept. 12, the Mc-Clymond gridders will give battle to the Richmond athletes.

The Richmond boys will then travel to San Leandro Sept. 19 to tangle with the San Leandro high school outfit. On Sept. 26, Richmond and Oakland will clash at Oakland. The last game of the season will be played against San Rafael Military Academy in Richmond.

Several games with Berkeley, Alameda and Piedmont high schools are also in the offing. With a schedule of such length and quality ahead of them, the Richmond Union high school football team will be required to measure up to the highest caliber of teams ever produced at the local school if they expect to be successful in conflict with their opponents of the eastbay.

Phil Hempler is as yet uncertain as to the quality of the youngsters who will fight under his command this season. He stated yesterday that he cannot vouch for the strength of the 1930 squad until Nov. 7, when it has already shown its worth in this season's contests.

This is Hempler's first season as head coach of the Richmond High varsity. However, he has had considerable experience in coaching the local B grid squad, and should be able to handle the varsity successfully during his first year as head coach at Richmond Union high school.

Ivan Hill has laid a fine foundation upon which Hempler may build the future fame of the Blue and Red gridders.

COREY GARAGE NINE WINS GAME

A long triple by Ferrari in the twelfth inning presented the Corey Garage nine with a 6 to 2 victory Sunday afternoon over the Martinez Chryslers.

The score was tied 2 to 2 at the beginning of the twelfth period. Then the locals started tapping the ball way out into the lonely places of the diamond, and three Garagemen succeeded in filling the bases. Then Ferrari smashed out his terrific and fortunate triple, and the three Coreys trotted home. Ferrari then came home to make the final score 6 to 2.

Both the Coreys and the Chryslers showed a goodly portion of speed Sunday, and marked themselves as two of the fastest outfits around the bay region.

Eglight did the hurling for the local boys, with Johnson receiving.

Richards and Martin were the battery for the Martinez team.

Korte of Richmond was the big hitter of the day, collecting two bingles out of two chances.

The Corey Garagemen will travel to Wilton next Sunday to tangle with the Wilton athletes. The locals will begin the trip Saturday night.

Junior Baseball Team Defeated

A local team largely composed of American Legion junior athletes were taken into camp by the Auditorium Barbers of Oakland by a score of 6 to 0 Sunday.

The entire contest was one-sided but the local youngsters put up a gallant resistance against the older and more experienced barbers. The barbers have a brilliant record behind them. They have defeated the Lopez Market nine, 14 to 2, and it took the Coreys twelve innings to beat the Lopez market. Therefore, the Richmond boys made a strong showing, considering the skill and experience of their conquerors.

Sleepy Policeman Nabs House Peeper

FRESNO, Cal. —UP— Alphonso Barojos, convicted peeping Tom, has seen a policeman in a night gown.

The sentenced man was peering through a window of the home of Mrs. T. Horton when he was surprised by footsteps to his rear. Finding himself pursued by several shocked bystanders, Barojo galloped down the street and past the residence of Policeman Alex Castellon, who was awakened by the rumpus.

Castellon nabbed the offender, called the "wagon," yawned and returned to his bed.

OAKLAND ELKS IN WIN OVER LOCALS

Although tied 9 to 9 at the end of the seventh inning with the Oakland Elks, the Richmond antlers went down before the invading Oakland athletes by a score of 15 to 9 Sunday afternoon on the First street lot.

The local lodgemen held the upper hand during the greater part of the first seven innings. But the visitors then began to get into their hitting stride, and the remainder of the battle was a succession of Oakland players toddling in toward home plate.

Brendell and Huzefka alternated in the box for the Richmond nine, with Bertoli receiving. Brendel succeeded in whiffing six Oaklanders, and Huzefka accounted for two. Between them, Brendel and Huzefka allowed the Oakland team 17 hits.

The heavy hitters of both the Richmond and Oakland teams were both working hard Sunday. Peacock, Banducci and Muth all lifted the agate over the First street fence, while Schmidt and Starasinich of Oakland did the four base act for the visitors. Johnny Huzefka accounted for two doubles, while Brendell and Peacock both earned one two base hit. Starasinich and Schmidt also smashed out one double base hit Surday.

Sunday's victory for Oakland was the third game of this year's northern California Elks league to be lost by the local lodgemen. The Richmond athletes have always shown plenty of speed and hitting power, but they have never yet been able to break through to victory.

Primaries To Be Held By 5 States Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—UP— Stirring contests involving some of the nation's most picturesque political figures are to be decided by primaries tomorrow in Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Ohio.

Political feeling stirred in the Smith presidential campaign is still exerting potent influence in some of these contests.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, one of the best known Republican insurgents who deserted Hoover to support Smith, in 1928 faces two opponents in his fight for renomination, State Treasurer Stephen and Aaron Reed.

Dr. Jennie M. Calfas, who resigned as Nebraska Democratic committee woman rather than support Governor Smith and Former Senator Hitchcock are contesting for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Former Senator Gore, Oklahoma's blind senator, and Former Governor Murray who's "Alfalfa Bill" had a spectacular career in Oklahoma and later as an adventuring colonist in Bolivia are seeking their former posts in the runoff primary tomorrow.

Couple Meet After 300 Years

DETROIT.—Two Old World lovers have been reunited here after a separation of 300 years which defies all ordinary conventions of romance.

In 1633 the great master Rembrandt painted the portraits of a well-to-do couple in Amsterdam. Years later, the pictures were sold and eventually found their way to America, that of the husband becoming the property of the late Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati and the Lady with a Fan going to Mrs. Francis Neilson of Chicago.

When the Detroit Art Museum collected 78 Rembrandts for its splendid exhibition of pictures from that master's brush, the picture from the Taft collection was requested, and although pictures from this collection scarcely ever are loaned, an exception was made so that the Dutch burgher and his wife might meet again on the walls of the gallery after 300 years.

Max Baer Wins Over Christner By Kayo In Two

OAKLAND, Aug. 11.—UP— The fourth knockdown for the veteran 36 year old K. O. Christner in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout resulted in a kayo victory here tonight for the youthful Max Baer.

The heavyweights slugged toe to toe through the two rounds of the fight, with both battlers landing numerous punches.

While Baer did not hit the floor once and Christner went down four times, it was impossible to say until the final knockdown who would win. K. O. was knocked down twice in each round.

The knockout blow was a solid right to the chin.

Baer's youth stood him in good stead to weather the terrific pounding that Christner gave him.

Many of the veteran's blows were directed at Max's mid section, that being his weakest spot. The youth stood up well under the strain and gave the easterner even better than he sent.

Much may be expected of the boy from Livermore as a result of tonight's fight. Christner has met some of the best heavyweights in the country and has always given a good account of himself.

Mail Man Has Travel Record Of 578,424 Miles

NESPELEM, Wash. —UP— The mail must go through—.

That has been the slogan of Fred Evers of Nespelem, as he has fought his way through drifted snows and across washed-out roadways for the past 22 years of continuous service with the government as a mail carrier.

In the course of his service, it was estimated he has traveled 578,424 miles, which was believed here to be a record for actual mileage covered by one man anywhere in the United States.

It is more than 40 miles from Nespelem to Almira, the two points between which Evers has established his record.

The Columbia river has to be crossed by ferry on each trip. There have been almost 14,000 such crossings. Only when ice conditions have prevented a crossing of the river has Evers failed to come in to Nespelem regularly each week day with his load of mail, and what is sometimes the only supply of bread and butter from outside sources for the Nespelem community.

Evers was recently awarded the contract for anotherr four-year term.

Today from out of her frame which hangs next to that of her husband the wife smiles kindly on her spouse while he returns her glance in dignified affection. But when the exhibition closes they will be separated again.

MOITOZA FORDS IN ANOTHER VICTORY

The Moitoza Fords easily trounced the Virden Packing company nine of Oakland Sunday afternoon by a score of 8 to 0.

The contest was completely one-sided thorughout almost the entire nine innings. The locals swatted the visitors all over the San Pablo diamond last week-end, while the Oakland boys swung in vain at the baffling curves tossed to them by Syd Marten, Moitoza chucker. Marten was nicked for but three hits and struck out eleven packers.

Billy Wickesser did some brilliant slugging for the Fords, tapping out two triples and a single, while Goldsworthy also had a big hitting day, earning a homer and a double.

The Moitoza Fords will compete with the Clarence Saunders outfit of Oakland next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at San Pablo.

AUTO MAGNATE SLAYS PAL, SELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—UP— San Francisco's "Automobile Row" was horrified today as murder and suicide dissolved a partnership of 20 years' standing.

J. W. Leavitt, president of J. W. Leavitt & company, distributors of a well known make of automobile, shot and killed his partner and general manager, Albert D. Plughoff in his private office today and then killed himself at his home an hour later.

A dispute over the firm's financial condition was believed to have been the cause of the shooting. The firm was known to be $40,000 in debt, and creditors had been going over the books for some weeks.

W. J. Pedler, an employe of the concern ,told police that he heard a shot from the office where the two men had been in conference, and that shortly afterwards Leavitt walked from the room and left the store.

Pedler entered the office and found Plughoff dead on the floor with a bullet wound in his temple. Police were called and officers started for Leavitt's home.

Discovery that the slayer had committed suicide was made in a more startling fashion.

Reporters, apprised of the shooting, were speaking to Leavitt's wife on the telephone.

"My husband can not talk to you now," she said, "he is busy."

Just then the report of a revolver was heard over the wire and Mrs. Leavitt screamed, "oh my God." Then the connection was broken.

The two men had been partners in automobile ventures for 20 years. They were known to be the best of friends, both in business and socially.

Leavitt is survived by a widow and six children, three of whom are married. Ploughoff leaves a widow, Mrs. Myrtle Plughoff.

MINING TOWN STRUCK BY FLOOD

BINGHAM, Utah, Aug. 11.—UP— A prolonged cloudburst precipitated a flood which swept through this mining town today and left damage estimated at more than -200,000 in its wake.

A small army of volunteers were checking tonight to determine if any residents were drowned. Escapes in many instances were miraculous.

Twenty-four houses were either demolished or damaged almost beyond repair in Markham Gulch. More than 100 homes in Carr Fork were battered and damaged by the rushing waters.

Many houses were buried in mud and rocks up to the eaves while several score more were in mud well above first floor windows. Residents were compelled to abandon personal and household effects to save their lives.

Sections of road between Copertown and Bingham were buried under mud from 12 to 20 feet deep. Several automobiles were immersed in silt.

As the cloudburst, which began at 11:30 a. m. and lasted nearly an hour and a half, increased in intensity, water poured into the canyon from numerous gullies and formed a large stream which swept down the main street of the town, flooded basements and ground floors of stores and carried automobiles some distance before frantic owners could stop them.

The force of the raging torrent and tons of rock and mud caused the Utah Copper company hospital to collapse. No patients were in the hospital and occupants escaped.

ECLIPSE LODGE HAS PRACTICE AT MEETING

Practice of the first degree was held by members of the Eclipse Odd Fellow lodge in the Odd Fellow hall last night after a business meeting over which E. J. Barnhard, noble grand presided.

The local members are holding practices regularly in preparation for the conferring of the first degree for any of the lodges in the county which ask their services.

E. S. Grabstein of San Francisco, district deputy grand marshal was present at the meeting last night and pronounced himself pleased with the manner in which the team was working.

R. N. LODGE ENTERTAINED AT MEETING

An interesting program was presented after last night's meeting of the Maple Camp Royal Neighbors of America in the Memorial hall under the direction of Mrs. Mollie Bonham.

During the business meeting, over which Mrs. Minnie Phillips presided, routine business was disposed of.

The program was as follows: piano and violin duet, LaVerne and J. Felciano; reading, Mrs. Mollie Bonham; accordian solo, Mrs. Edith Overmann; reading Mrs. Zelda Chapin; accordian solo Harold Felciano; solo, Guy Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, and duet, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith.

Two Inquests Are Held Here

County Coroner Aubrey Wilson last night conducted two inquests into deaths that have occurred in Richmond the past week. The inquests were held in the Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel.

With the verdict of accidental death in the demise of Charles Wees who was instantly killed last Tuesday when a Santa Fe train crashed into his truck at a crossing near the Certain-teed plant, a recommendation was made that a wig-wag signal be placed on the crossing.

Natural cause was the verdict into the death of James Wright, 1121 Roosevelt avenue, who dropped dead from a heart attack at his home last week.

True Fish Story Enacted By Man

OCEANSIDE, Cal. —UP— C. A. Peddicord caught a big fish and that's no exaggeration.

After hooking it he started to reel in his line but the fish gave a lurch and threw the fisherman from the pier in after his prey. The pole had acted as a lever and the fish was on the long end of the lever.

In the fall, Peddicord's leg was broken and due to his injury, he nearly drowned before he was rescued by life guards in a skiff.

Death Hoax New Theme For Party

LONDON, —UP — Twenty-five members of London's higest society sat about the table in the luxurious house of Lady Ribblesdale.

There was also an empty chair. Several of the guests noticed it but said nothing. Anxious glances were directed at it. Finally one braved the breach of good manners and asked who the tardy guest was.

"Oh, just a girl who is staying with me," replied Lady Ribblesdale. "She probably will be down soon".

But she didn't come and an eerie atmosphere settled about the diners. Finally a search was suggested. It led to the door of the girl's room. A knock. No answer.

The door was pushed open and there on the bed lay a beautiful woman. Mrs. Arthur James, who a few years ago was a leader of the younger smart set. Her face was pale, her left eye horribly bruised.

Women gasped. Men paled. Someone picked up a revolver and it exploded. Five I. O. U.'s lay near the bed. They were clippings from a personal column of a newspaper, one reading "Darling, don't see L. before we meet tonight. Al."

Lipstick-stained cigarets of a peculiar brand were found. The men were compelled to open their cases and in the Duke of Marlborough's was found a similar cigaret.

But Scotland Yard wasn't called The Duke wasn't arrested. Mrs. James wasn't dead. It was just Lady Ribblesdale's idea of a new thrill for a dinner party.

Camp Fire Girls Guardians To Meet

At a meeting of Contra Costa Camp Fire Guardians in Martinez tomorrow night plans will be discussed for a week-end camp for girls with the fire-makers rank. The Camp fire work in Richmond will resume with the start of school, Miss Maude Wood, local executive announced yesterday.

TERMS OF TWO FRUIT MEN UPHELD

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—UP— The conviction of George Mefford and Joseph Wardman, Los Angeles fruit dealers, found guilty of stamping the name "Imperial" on fruit not from the Imperial Valley, was upheld today in a decision by Judge Hartley Shaw of the Superior Appellate division.

The two men had appealed from fines in Municipal court an arguments that the State Standardization act for fruits, nuts and vegetables was unconstitutional, because it divided the state into two separate districts.

The constitutionality of the legislation was upheld.

DOLORES AND EDMUND IN FILM

Perhaps no other film document of recent years is so abundantly supplied with sheer entertainment value as "The Bad One," the United Artists all talking and singing comedy-drama of the French waterfront cafes, starring Dolores Del Rio with Edmund Lowe at the Fox-California theater today and tomorrow.

Starting with the noisy Marseilles cafe scene, with a mechanical piano raising its cracked voice above the shout of men for wine, and more wine—dancing and singing women and the busy activity of commission girls doling out drinks to sailors on carnival, the picture affords the star her greatest opportunity to date.

With Edmund Lowe appearing with her for the first time since the pair made their memorable appearance in "What Price Glory" Miss Del Rio as "Lita" in "The Bad One" is strongly reminiscent of "Charmaine" in the war story.

Her character is that of a girl thrust by circumstances into a typical seaport cafe, whose living depends on the exploitation of her charms, the timely winking of her eyes and her industry in refilling empty glasses.

In this role the star is obliged to exercise the full emotional range; from coquetry to comedy and from wistful moodiness to tragedy when one of her innocent flirtations sets in full motion the machinery of love.

"The Bad One" demonstrates Miss Del Rio's aptitude for melodramatic action as well as characterization in voice.

Though this is her first appearance on the talking screen, the star, who portrays a Spanish entertainer set loose in cosmopolitan Marseilles, invests her voice with shadings and phrasings that are delightful in opposition to the masculine gruffness of the wise-cracking American sailor played by Lowe.

Because of its sheer humor and aggressiveness drama, George Fitzmaurice, director has to his credit a picture that deserves a high place in any list of film plays judged primarily on their entertainment value alone. "The Bad One" is rollicking fun, set in a melodramatic background that correctly mirrors the Marseilles waterfront, with its primal passions its strifes and gayeties.

Edmund Lowe is again the character he was in "What Price Glory" "In Old Arizona" and "The Cockeyed World," though his profanities are lacking in favor of salty wisecracks. As the American Don Juan of the seas, whose boast is that he can get any girl in the world, he presents a typical Lowe whom any girl would find it hard to resist.

The picture abounds in highlights with the climactic thrill wisely reserved for the end when the two general characters find themselves involved in a desperate revolt from which they emerge happily.

The Bad One

DOLORES DEL RIO and Edmund Lowe are starred in "THE BAD ONE" which is now being shown at the Fox-California Theater.

DRIVER HELD IN DEATH OF WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—UP — A truck driver whose arrest the slain woman had once caused, late today was held for questioning in the brutal murder of Mrs. Barbara Doylen, beaten to death in her home last night.

The suspect, Clarence Kelley, was a neighbor of Mrs. Doyle and was questioned concerning the crime after detectives became suspicious of the man's movements today.

Kelly was arrested at one time on the complaint of the elderly woman that he and his family were too noisy at parties held in their home.

Mrs. Doyle's body was found by a friend. According to officers, the woman had been beaten over the head with some heavy instrument. Her bedroom showed that a terrific struggle had taken place before her assailant succeeded in clubbing his victim into insensibility.

Mrs. Doyle was said to have a son, Walter Doyle, living at 314 Auburn avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Scout Leader Returns From Eastern Trip

After visiting with a brother in Colorado whom he had not seen for years, Robert Cox, local Scout executive, accompanied by Mrs. Cox, returned to Richmond Sunday.

The brother, of whom Cox had lost all trace until last year, is John Wilmer, mayor of Durango, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox were delayed a week in New Mexico by a destructive cloudburst, which washed out roads along their route.

Pan-Pacific Conference Head Named

SAN FRANCISCO. —UP— Replacing Dr. Mary E. Wooley, president of Mount Holyoke college, Mass., Dr. Anna Cox Brinton, professor of archeology at Mills college, has been appointed international chairman of conference session of the Pan-Pacific Women's conference to be held in Honolulu August 9 to 23, it was announced.

Mrs. Brinton is well versed in affairs and problems of the Pacific and this summer is traveling in China and Japan. Her many international affiliations have especially fitted Dr. Brinton to be leader of the coming conference.

The conference is held for the purpose of bringing together scientific leaders and others to discuss the problems of countries bordering on the Pacific and promote international goodwill and a better understanding between nations.

TWO ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Alleged illegal possession of liquor was the cause of the residence in the El Cerrito jail last Sunday of O. S. Dimsky, 30, of Weed, Cal., and August Mader, 23, of 3454 Pacton street, Oakland.

Dimsky pleaded guilty to the charge before Police Judge A. G. Thompson yesterday and paid a fine of $50. Mader was released on $50 bail and will appear before Judge Thompson tomorrow night. He was arrested at Cutting and San Pablo avenues.

Youthful Worker Poor But Proud

SAN DIEGO.—UP—Pride is seldom more powerful than hunger but in the case of Adolph Vermeesch it was.

"I spent my last dime for a bar of soap and went hungry so that I might look respectable," Vermeesch said to the judge, when charged with vagrancy. He explained that it would have been impossible to get work looking as he did on arrival in this city.

The judge was impressed with the young man's story and gave him an opportunity to find work.

PLANE DROPS BOMBS ON MINE

PROVIDENCE, Ky., Aug. 11.—UP—Authorities throughout Kentucky and the southern portions of Illinois and Indiana tonight were searching for an orange airplane and its pilot who early today introduced aerial bombing into the bitter mine war that has kept this district in turmoil for many months.

Shortly after sunrise the plane laden with bundles of dynamite and iron slugs sailed over the non-union colleries near here and dropped its infernal machines. According to J. E. Palmer, manager of the Diamond mine, one of the airman's targets only one of the bombs went off. Others said that two of them exploded.

Open War

Mine operators here saw the attack as the declaration of open warfare on the part of "certain disgruntled individuals" who are attempting to unionize the Kentucky coal fields. Union headquarters in Indianapolis and Springfield, Ill., however, were quick to disavow any union connection with today's attack.

Trouble in the Kentucky mine area broke out in July when about 200 of the 1200 striking miners returned to work at non-union wages. Several shootings marked the resumption of trouble last month.

Plane Traced

Tracing the plane from which today's bombs were dropped proved a difficult task. In Washington the aeronautics branch of the commerce department started an investigation.

It was believed here that the pilot who introduced world war tactics into the mine troubles was an experienced bomber. The one bomb that exploded made a terrific detonation and roused the entire community, but injured no one. It fell within 100 yards of a group of miners and showered the vicinity with iron slugs.

The Luton and Ruckmake mines also were singled out for bomb attack but the dynamite dropped near them did not go off.

Imported Wood Makes Novel Table

AUBURN, Wash. —UP— Woods gathered from China, the Philippines and North America have been combined in the construction of a novel checker table by C. F. Greene. It required 73½ days of continuous labor to put together the 2197 pieces of wood used in the table.

After the table had been pieced together it required 15 coats of shellac, two of varnish and several of wax to complete the work.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickel) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.

"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c, (all three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gene Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

NEW TEACHERS AT SCHOOLS

Replacing Mrs. Grace Holmes and Mrs. Thelma Lee of the Lincoln school faculty, Miss Irene Carey and Mrs. Stella Anderson yesterday started teaching at the school.

Miss Carey was formerly of the Nystrom school faculty and Mrs. Anderson has been substituting in Richmond schools.

Mrs. Holmes is now on the Fairmont faculty and Mrs. Lee has resigned.

The enrollment this year at the Lincoln school totals 528, 486 pupils registering in the elementary grades and 42 in the kindergarten.

Slain Radio Man's Memory Is Honored

DETROIT—The memory of Gerald E. Buckley, the slain raido announced who was a friend of the poor, remains fresh in the hearts of Detroit's common folk.

In life a stout defender of the unemployed and the downtrodden, Buckley is now repaid in death with the homage of those who in life could give him nothing but their gratitude. Now they give him their homage.

At Mt. Olive cemetery, where Buckley was buried while 30,000 men and women looked on and wept openly, the new earth of his grave is kept covered with fresh flowers. They are not the expensive hothouse variety, but those which come from the little backyard garden plots. Some are strewn over the grave; others are placed in tin cans. The grass about the Buckley grave is brown and dead from the countless feet which have trod the area since Buckley was buried.

Buckley, who fought for the rights of the poor, attacking the city administration when he thought it wrong, and incessantly flaying the "rackets" and the underworld was killed a few hours after the recall of Mayor Bowles, which he favored, had gone thru to success. Whether it was a political assassination, or the vengeance of the underworld has not been disclosed.

Buckley's memory also will be perpetuated here through calling of the half-hour which he always utilized on the radio the "Jerry Buckley" hour. Officials of station WMBC, from which Buckley spoke every evening at 6:30 for two years, announced that the hour would be continued. The time will be devoted to carrying on the ideals of Buckley—clean government and a fair break for the poor.

Donations are being received to carry on the work Buckley started, namely his fight for an old age pension law, and aiding unemployed during times of stress. Meantime letters continue to arrive at the station and newspaper offices voicing regrets over the murder. Many, also, have been moved to poetry, and preparations are being made to compile the verses into one volume sale of which will aid in foundation of the Buckley memorial fund.

BRITISH TROOPS DEFEAT AFRIDI TRIBESMEN

PESHAWAR, India, Aug. 11.—UP—British troops repulsed well-armed Afridi tribesmen in the outskirts of Peshawar today. The warriors, tenaciously trying to hold places of advantage almost up to the city's walls, were forced to retreat.

They fled before a determined action on the part of the British forces.

The Afridi bands returned to the hills, and most of those in orchards and nearby ravines gave way before the counter-attack.

Communications were rapidly being restored tonight as the natives were cleared out and wires repaired. Most of the telegraph and telephone lines were repaired during the day. Peshawar had relied on airplane wireless sets to keep in touch with Silma, seat of the Indian government.

Armored Train

An armored train arrived this afternoon.

The British sent a scouting party out as far as the Kohat highway, but failed to find traces of the enemy. The retreat apparently had been complete, at least temporarily, at 7 p. m.

The withdrawal followed sporadic fighting within sound of Peshawar during the past 48 hours in which several casualities occurred among the Afridis and at least half a dozen Indians in the Indian army were shot.

No Help

The Afridis, supported in meager fashion by a few other tribes from the unsubdued strip of land between northwest India and Afghanistan, made repeated sorties on the walled city of Peshawar. They cut communications and tried to capture the British mobilization barracks and the railway station.

The tribesmen during the attack obtained some food from villages near Peshawar, but got little assistance in the main from the natives on this side of the frontier. They mingled with the natives on the outskirts of the city during the days, and it proved difficult to distinguish them until they gathered in their camps at dusk, preparing for the attacks.

The fighting continued over the week-end and during yesterday, until the British bombardment forced the hillmen to withdraw, almost too suddenly.

Kind Pilots Bring Lone Couple News

SEATTLE, Wash.—UP—Contact with the outside world would be a hard proposition for George W. Dennis, forest station lookout, and his wife, Polly Dennis, who are situated in the center of the Wenatchee national forest, if it were not for the thoughtfullness of passing pilots.

Every day at 5:50 p. m. the big tri-motored plane on its scheduled run from Seattle to Spokane, swoops low over the "marooned" couple, and drops the latest newspapers to keep them posted on what is happening in the outside world.

NO EXCUSE FOR A "SPLITTING HEAD"

There's no need for an aching head to spoil your day. At the first warning throb take Dillard's Aspergum. Chew it a few minutes. Almost before you realize it, you have chewed the pain away. It's as simple as that—no trouble, and harmless—for Dillard's Aspergum is the new and easier way to take aspirin.

Dillard's Aspergum is the finest aspirin in delicious chewing gum form. You can take it any time—any place. You need no water to gulp it down. There is no unpleasant taste—no choking.

Because you chew Dillard's Aspergum the aspirin mixes thoroughly with the saliva so that all its soothing qualities are effective quickly, continuously.

Keep a package of Aspergum on hand for quick, harmless relief from the pain of headaches, neuralgia, neuritis, etc. It helps break up a cold, and soothes irritated throats, even such severe cases as follow tonsil operations. If your druggist does not have Dillard's Aspergum, send for free sample to Health Products Corporation, Dept. A, 113 North 13th Street, Newark, N. J.

WALSH BODY TO BE SHIPPED NORTH

Under the direction of the Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel, the remains of Mrs. Martha Beryl Walsh will be sent to Gilman, Colo., where deceased lived.

Mrs. Walsh, 23, came to Richmond two months ago ill, and passed away at a local hospital yesterday morning. She has a brother living on California street.

Surviving are her husband, James E. Walsh, who is en route here from Gilman; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sharp of Colorado; two sisters, May and Maxine Sharp of Colorado; and a brother, T. E. Sharp of Richmond. She was a member of Women of Woodcraft of Colorado, and was a native of Kansas, aged 23 years.

Trial Set For Movie Employes On Theft Count

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—UP—Preliminary hearing for two motion picture company employes, arrested in connection with an asserted plot to steal the script of "The Dawn Patrol" today was set for Sept. 8, after a Municipal court arraignment on conspiracy charges.

Bail for the pair, Joseph March writer, and F. J. Easley, detective, both employed by Caddo Productions, was set at $2500 each.

The men are charged with conspiracy to commit burglary and conspiracy to commit grand theft as a result of asserted implication in what is believed to have been a plan to steal script of the screen play from the Warner Brothers First National corporation.

The Caddo company now has an action against Warner Brothers charging that "The Dawn Patrol" is an infringement on the rights of "Hells Angels" Caddo production.

VISITORS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brackett of 29 Nevin avenue are hosts this week to Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Austin of Indiana, who arrived here yesterday afternoon. The Austins will later continue to the southern part of the state. This is their first trip to California.

Billings Plea Hearing Starts On Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—UP—Plans were completed today for the hearing Thursday night in Folsom prison when the justices of the supreme court of the state will question Warren K. Billings.

The hearing for the suspect of the 1916 Preparedness day bombing perpetrator will start at 5 o'clock on Thursday, providing the justices do not make other arrangements.

Warden Court Smith will have special guards for the judges, and the hearing will start after "lock-up" time, with the thousands of "lifers" and "second termers" in their cells.

Whether or not the evidence against Billings produced by former prosecutor Edward A. Cunha will be allowed to be brought up will be decided by the justices late today or tomorrow.

Cunha declares he has documents purporting to link the men with an organization of radicals in 1916. Presentation of this evidence is being opposed by Edwin V. McKenzie, counsel for Billings.

CARQUINEZ ARRIVALS

Arrivals at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday included J. R. Anderson of Fresno, Anthony Much, San Francisco; R. P. Harrison, Santa Monica; L. M. Shaw, New York; K. R. Foreman, Fresno; J. C. Sharp, San Francisco and Helen Brooks, Berkeley.

NEW PRIESTS WILL BE HONORED

Final arrangements for the dinner party to be held at the Hotel Carquinez tomorrow night in honor of the four new priests on duty in Richmond, El Cerrito and San Pablo have been completed by the committee in charge. During the dinner a program arranged by Mrs. Harry Burt will be presented.

The committee in charge of the affair representing the various Catholic societies of the district is composed of James Hounsell, chairman; Albert Gillis, Harry Soito, Miss Cecelia Desmond, Mrs. George, Miss Mary Gately, Mrs. Rose Malianni and Mrs. Josephine Durand.

BIRTHS REPORTED

Two births were recorded by the Richmond city health department yesterday.

To Mr. and Mrs. Washington I. Mannering of Napa a son born on August 8.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Holman of Irving, a son born on August 7.

1¢ a meal — to cook with electricity

And the electric range costs no more than any good range

Electric cooking has an aristocratic "atmosphere."

However, fine "atmosphere" should not mislead any one from true dollar-and-cents facts. Here they are:

You can cook a complete meal for four people with 4c worth of electricity. In addition, the price of an electric range itself is no more than any good range.

And how the electric range improves cooking!—and gives you more time for out-of-the-kitchen activities. For electric cooking can be entirely automatic. After a meal is placed in the oven, you never have to watch it — or baste the meat.

Moreover, the electric range is the "keynote" for a beautiful, clean kitchen.

Today's electric range has Improved Cooking Elements, 29 to 50% speedier. Fully enameled Rust-Proof Oven. Smokeless Broiler Pan. Smooth Porcelain Enamel which wipes clean easily. Cooker Pot. Automatic Oven Temperature Control, and a Special Time Clock for automatically turning the oven current on and off while you're away.

Come into our office or a dealer's store and see the fine new electric ranges. And remember, modern electric cooking IS economical.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

Where Helen Keller Led, Others Follow

IF THERE be one modern woman who should serve as an inspiration to every other, that woman is Helen Keller. The best tonic for any one of us, when we're cross about things at the office, or when we feel we're not appreciated at home, or when we want new clothes and can't afford them, or when we suffer from any other feminine grouch or gloom, is to remember the story of Helen Keller as she herself has told it—the story of her amazing courage and cheerfulness in attaining economic and spiritual independence. For she had to overcome not only all the obstacles which confront the rest of us, in the achievement of these goals, but also her own appalling handicaps of darkness and silence.

MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

Now, thanks to two women, the inspirational value of Helen Keller's indomitable life is increased by the knowledge that she does not stand alone. Many other women, men too, as afflicted have triumphed as gloriously over circumstance, we learn from the researches of Miss Corinne Rocheleau and Miss Rebecca Mack. They report that there are from 2 000 to 3,000 Helen Kellers in the United States and Canada—that is to say from 2,000 to 3,000 men and women who can neither see nor hear, yet who have become intelligent, successful human beings.

MISS ROCHELEAU and Miss Mack themselves are remarkable American women. The former is unable to hear a word, but speaks both English and French and wrote a book in French—though a citizen of the United States—for which the French Academy named her laureate. Miss Mack is nearly blind. They form a unique traveling partnership, since one does the hearing for two and the other the seeing.

They have investigated personally at least 900 cases of deaf-blind persons and their victories over their double affliction. The results of this research are to be found in the new book by Miss Rocheleau and Miss Mack, Those in Dark Silence, wherein are also described modern methods in reaching and teaching persons who can neither see nor hear.

By employing the sense of touch the sleeping intelligence of the deaf and sightless one is awakened. Then he or she learns to speak, by translating into sound the vocal vibrations felt by the fingers. In many of the cases studied by these two women the uncelebrated followers of Helen Keller have learned to speak more than one language.

TWO particularly interesting feminine dwellers in the "dark silence" are Helen May Martin and Kathryne Mary Frick.

Miss Martin, though she can neither see nor hear, is a remarkable pianist, who has given concerts in many cities.

Miss Frick, whose fascinating autobiography has been appearing in the Atlantic Monthly, has herself told of how, blind and deaf from babyhood, she learned to speak, to hear speech by placing her fingers on another's lips, to study everything which other school children study, to waltz and sew and lead a perfectly normal life. At home now, she reports cheerfully:

"Here I am, as busy and as happy and content as most persons in the circumstances of my parents are. I help Mother with her household duties and do little things for Father when he returns home tired from work. I draw dolls and sell them to get pin money. Then, in addition, I am taking a course in English composition and rhetoric from the Hadley Correspondence School which, with my reading, helps to keep me mentally alert."

For all these fellow citizens of Helen Keller in the kingdom of darkness and stillness, Henley's famous stanza seems to have been written especially:

"Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from Pole to Pole
I thank whatever gods there be
For my unconquerable soul."

And, woman to woman, don't you feel as ashamed as we do for ever fussing about anything, when you consider how, with eyes that see and ears that hear, you have by comparison so much more to make you happy, so much less to make you discouraged?

THOUGHTS ON REACHING THE QUARTER CENTURY MARK

I

The best is gone, and yet, the best is still to come;
Don't ask me to explain—it's so,
that's all.
I knew much more when I knew less than I know now,
But I'll know more when I see
through the wall.

I've builded me a firmer one . . .
I'll have a mighty tower of dreams

DEATH IN THE DESERT

That most discussed, over the weekend, of the Edison test questions—the one about whose lives you'd save in the desert—apparently resolves itself into science first or women and children first. Since only three in the hypothetical expedition could be sent out to safety, giving the chance to the two women and the six-year-old boy would doom to death both the old and the young scientists, while saving this pair would eliminate automatically either the child and one woman or both women. The surest thing we know about this question is that, if any one of the forty-nine youths examined failed to list his imaginary fiancée as the first candidate for salvation, he'd better keep the dark decision from his girl friends!

AFTERWARD

Days and nights are much the same,
A chaos and a void.
I even miss some of the things
At which I was annoyed.

Silence makes a louder sound
Than words which we had spoken.
Is it always that way
When a heart is broken?

Oh, Go to Bed

By Eliot Kays Stone

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

"OH, look, Dad; the cow's chewing gum."

"Chewing gum! How absurd! She isn't chewing gum, she's chewing her cud."

"What's her cud?"

"A ball or bolus of food drawn up from her paunch to be rechewed."

"Why didn't she chew it when she ate it?"

"She did a little, but she was too busy eating to chew it thoroughly. So when she is resting she draws the partially chewed food into her mouth in little balls and rechews it."

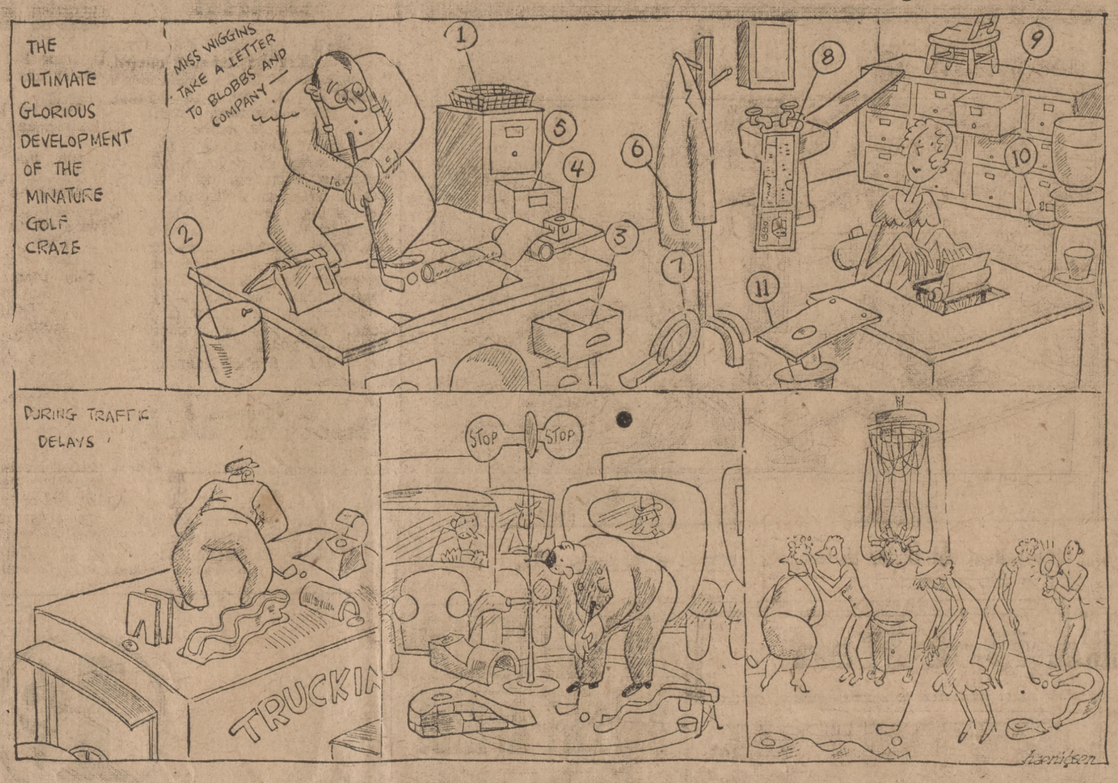
"Why is she too busy eating?"

"Oh, go to bed."

A Vacation Suggestion

For the camp or picnic fire bring the rack from the home oven. Support this on rocks over the open fire and you will not only have a good broiler and toaster but a safe base for the coffee pot and other cooking pans.

The Frantic Future - - - - - - - - - By Haenigsen



THINK IT OVER

By Alfalfa Smart

NO one would get out of bed in the morning if he didn't have to. No one would pay a bill these days if he didn't have to.

We have to be licked into shape.

A nagging wife has made many a man famous.

We need some one to get us out of bed. We must have an incentive.

There are millions of people in this country who are doing work they do not like. That is why things drag and business is tied up. Compare to-day with war times when every one was busy and working with a big incentive. Have YOU an incentive?

About Your Bath

JUST because your friend takes a cold plunge and feels "like a new man" is no reason why you should do the same. You can complacently go on having the water of a temperature agreeable to you. A cold plunge may be stimulating, but the reaction will prove depressing if you are not of a most vigorous type.

For the same reason you may have to forego the cold shower baths which put pep into a strong, healthy person but always have a bad effect upon you.

The summer is a good time to accustom children to the cool plunge and the shower so they can safely take the daily morning cool bath and rub. Children who start the day with this good hygienic habit are almost immune against colds.

Hats and Heads Take on the Same Turns

By Ann Roberts

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

VELVET RIBBON AND SHEER FRENCH VOILE ARE SEWN TOGETHER IN A BERET BY MARCELLE LELY.

MADO MAKES A BLACK FELT GRACEFULLY DRAPED WITH A FLAT FEATHER TO HOLD IT IN FRONT.

ALPHONSINE'S NEW HAT IN SOLEIL AND PLAIN FELT DOUBLE FACED.

NOT exactly caring to cast any bouquets anywhere in my own direction, but wishing none the less to give the public cold facts, I would state that way back in the spring my writing told about tip-tilted hats.

Now look at the darned things! Nothing but tips and tilts.

The hat molds the head—keeps to its outline—then it bends a sharp curve softly in any direction that art and a good designer say is becoming.

But just there stop and recognize the critical point. What I said was "a good designer." These hats, and pardon me please if I have said this before, can't be slapped on the head any which way—can't be picked up at a dollar to fool the public. They need study and art and care and—yes—fortitude to resist the ones that are pretty but wrong for the face—your face.

Then for the ones that are right for the fall—the beret—excuse me, yes, but I mean the beret. It hasn't lost a bit of its style prestige. It is still going strong for wear with suits, tweeds, cloth dresses and all sports things for all times of day, though the material from which it is made must determine the hour.

They're pushed back from the forehead as are all the rest of the hats. Some even go so far back that the sweep of the hair is visible—not just a wisp—and this makes them vastly becoming.

Turbans are back and, for those who can wear them, awfully smart. Twisted turbans in two colors of jersey are notable, the darker color to the front, the lighter to the back. Velvet turbans too are worn with Canton crepe dresses and with those made of velvet.

The New Brims

BRIMS there are but so definitely shaped, so dipped and draped that they quite lose their characters as brims in the form we have generally known them. The drawings on this page will give you an idea of the general outlines—not so far down on the neck as they were—not so flat to the contour of the face, if you see what I mean. In other words, there is more softness, more of the quality of fabric that is folded, and this whether they be made of that fabric, which often they are, or of felt or of velvet.

Velvets are braided, shirred, puckered and knotted—much making with a very simple effect when all is finished. Black velvet hats with double brims, soft on the edges are trimmed with colored velvets—tourquoise velvet to wear with your new turquoise jewelry. A brown velvet trimmed with green to match your brown dress that is also trimmed with green.

But please don't wear these hats shopping. They are far too formal and should be saved for swell luncheons, afternoon teas and bridges—to wear with quite formally designed clothes, not with suits.

There is a great vogue for white velvet hats that are lovely in themselves, but they are designed for one purpose—for wear with black costumes with white gloves and white accessories. Quite a picture, you know it is, but one that loses all its flavor when the white hat is worn with evening clothes. This is not the idea at all, and I only mention it because already there have been some slight errors in this direction. A hat is all right worn with what is known as a restaurant dress, but never must it appear with evening attire.

In a Color Way

SMART colors for fall hold down to green, brown and the wine shades this season. Of course, when it comes to matching the costume then almost any color is good if the dress is smart. The hat, be it known, is always and ever a part of the ensemble and when it jumps out of harmony it is more than a total loss. The completion of the costume is surely half its mission in the life of this season of 1930.

Earrings? Well, yes if they're right, but not the drippy ones. They're as dead as a last year's cloche. You can wear big flat turquoise buttons to go with your turquoise jewelry—or white coral ones with that sort of jewelry. There was some talk of enormous pearls being good but in my humble estimation they never succeed in looking anything but a bit common. The ones mentioned are better, or flat antique ones—chrysophrase in filigree gold frames or black enamel done the same way.

A word about veils—never over the tip of the nose—very sheer, very wide mesh. If some one offers you a veil with a border, push it away. It is not done.

THE LATEST INTERPRETATION OF THE VELVET HAT BY THAT CLEVER DESIGNER, AGNES.

The August Birthday

THE water lily is the chosen flower for August and there is no blossom more effective for hot weather decorative purposes. A dish of floating pond lilies is really cooling to look at. As these flowers are plentiful now, the fresh lilies may be used in low, flat dishes for table decorations.

For the cake the artificial variety would, of course, be preferable, and it would be pretty to make these in pale pink. An effective centerpiece may be made by covering the birthday cake with a circular box and placing a smaller box on this in tier fashion. Cover the boxes with fine white crepe paper to simulate frosting. A border of pink and green or blue candies may be pasted along the top side edge. Place water lilies flat on the lower box, and on the upper box have a single lily with a single pale green or blue candle in the centre. Place rest of candles between the water lilies on the cake.

The sardonyx is the August birthstone and, of course, a ring with this setting is always appreciated. The sardonyx is particularly attractive in rings for men and boys.

As August is the big vacation month, the appreciated birthday gift might be some traveling necessity or some article needful for the vacation days. The kiddies who believe in preparedness would be pleased with a school bag, a set of lead pencils bearing their full name, a lunch box or some other school convenience.

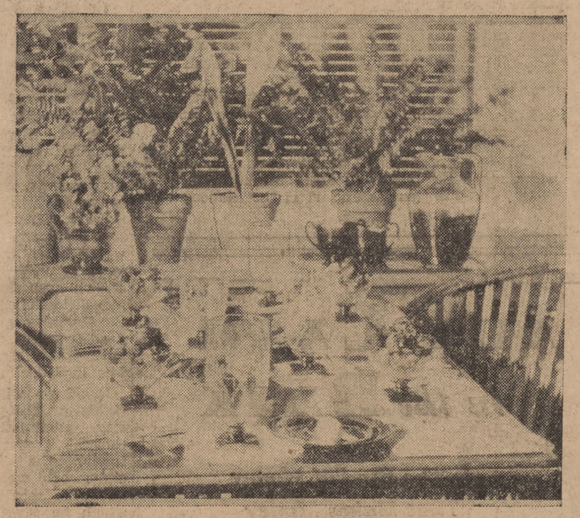
Summer Velvets

AN innovation for summer evening wear is the gown of transparent velvet, made in the most delicate tint of pink, green or blue. This supple fabric adapts itself remarkably to the Grecian influence and stately lines of the formal silhouette. The Sunday night type of frock is sponsored in transparent velvet, cut with long flaring sleeves and trailing hemlines.

Tales That Tables Tell

By Alma Zaiss

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930



"I WOULD entertain at luncheon . . . if it weren't so beastly hot," is no excuse in these days of informal dining where there is a veranda. For see what can be done with a pair of porch chairs and an outdoor table!

The warmer we feel the cooler it takes us . . . this summer picture with its first course all set and ready to go. It might consist of luscious berries, or iced melon balls, or fruit cocktail in frosty looking glasses, to be followed by thin assorted sandwiches and a delicious ice-cold salad of crabmeat or chicken; for dessert, a maple mousse from the automatic ice-box, macaroons . . . and first, last and between courses, tall glasses of iced coffee with plenty of thick cream. Everything will be cool; nothing difficult to prepare; all as dainty and tempting as the most exacting appetite could demand.

Did we but know it, these easy, colorful entertainments are the very ones that are most vividly remembered. In the presence of such an intimate setting as the one above, for example, we are moved to tell pleasant confidential tales . . . content to relax and listen to return news as it ebbs and flows . . . to admire the crisp, beruffled organdie the hostess is wearing and feel equally cool in our own dotted swiss. . . .

But to get back to the business of planning the mid-summer luncheon: The two most important secrets are simplicity and ice-coldness. Let the fruits be thoroughly chilled and served au naturel, as nearly as possible, instead of in the form of elaborate concoctions. Such food as jellied meat or vegetable loaf, cold salmon or tuna fish en mayonnaise may be set in individual molds, garnished with lettuce and served with crisp potato chips and bread and butter sandwiches on one large plate. Frozen desserts are most attractive when served frappe fashion . . . unless the household possesses especially smart compots or sherbet glasses instead of their tall, slim relatives.

And where there is automatic refrigeration it is well to remember that two tins of ice cubes soon melt into nothingness if the bevereage to be served is made fresh and poured hot over the ice. An unforgivable faux pas, to be caught iceless toward the end of the summer meal! Better to brew the coffee strong and early in the day, bottle it and set it and the glasses in the coldest section of the refrigerator. Then unless guests remain too long at luncheon and are possessed of unquenchable thirst, two normal servings of ice from the side table should be sufficient during the meal.

A DISH A DAY

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

Ice creams and sherbets have long been the national American dessert, but it is only recently that frozen salads have received their due share of attention on our tables. Served with dainty sandwiches, a frozen fruit salad is an ideal choice for refreshment at an afternoon bridge party. In many cases where the main course at luncheon or dinner is a heavy one, it is advisable to combine the salad and dessert courses, and under such circumstances a frozen fruit salad is the obvious and best choice.

KAREN HOLLIS

The recipe which I am going to give you today can be varied to include seasonal berries and fruits. But it must be borne in mind that certain raw fruits are not good when frozen.

Peaches must always be cooked slightly, and pineapple should either be cooked slightly or allowed to stand for at least twelve hours sprinkled with a little sugar before it is frozen. Canned, shredded pineapple is excellent to use in frozen salads. Sweet cherries may be used raw, but the sour cherries must be cooked first in a little syrup.

If you haven't a mechanical refrigerator in which to freeze the salad, pack it in a container with a tight cover. An empty coffee can, lined with paraffin paper and with a sheet of paraffin paper under the lid, can be used. Pack this in ice and salt, in the proportions of four to one, for about six hours.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

2 packages cream cheese (6 oz.).
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup cream, whipped
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup shredded pineapple
½ cup cherries, cooked or canned
1 cup grapefruit sections
4 tablespoons lemon juice
8 marshmallows, quartered
Lettuce

Work the chesee with a fork until soft and add the mayonnaise, blending well. Sprinkle the fruit with lemon juice. Fold the cheese and mayonnaise mixture into the whipped cream, add the marshmallows, and then the fruit. Pack in mechanical refrigerator pan or mold and freeze. Unmold, cut in slices and serve on lettuce.

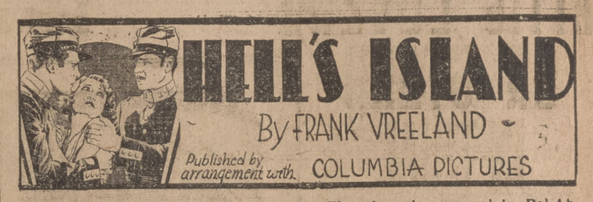
School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.



CHAPTER I

The battalion of the Foreign Legion slumped wearily through the shimmering hot sands of the desert. Every sagging line of their fatigue-ridden bodies told eloquently of the months of hand-to-hand fighting they had just finished against savage Riff tribesmen who refused to bow to the civilization of France.

The collars of their tunics drooped open. They carried their rifles at a slovenly trail as their feet dragged along in the route step. They seemed to have just enough energy left to breathe. But there was one of them who had a little more energy—enough to talk, though even the shortest syllables seemed to blister the tongue.

This private happened to be a Londoner, which explained his garrulity. Nothing can prevent a loquacious Cockney from babbling. This and his faintly chipper manner, even under the browbeating of the sun, made him stand out in the picturesque motley of various races which made up this detachment of the Foreign Legion. Said he to the silent private stumbling alongside him:

"My arches ain't just broken—they're worn off. But think of tonight, Frog. We'll be in Bel-Abbas in another hour. The ladies will make you forget your troubles."

"Ladies!" burst out the French soldier irritably. "You call zese native women ladies?"

"Why not?" returned Bert the Cockney. "Females is females, no matter what color they are." He turned to a soldier on the other side. "'Ow's the gals in Bel-Abbas, Mac? You've been there before."

The man addressed as Mac who had been moving over the sand with a wiry stride like the easy lope of a wolf, let a smile flicker across his face. It lighted up a countenance taut with the wariness of a man who had met many enemies in the open, both barbaric and civilized, and who had few illusions left as a result.

"There's only one gal in Bel-Abbas," Mac told Bert with the unmistakable accent of an American, "that's worth looking at."

"What's her nyme?" queried the Cockney with romantic eagerness.

Again a twinkle of amusement crept into Mac's eyes, giving them an intelligent light that contrasted with the dull, leathery quality of his skin. When his face relaxed like that, it was understandable why this tall soldier, with the hint of self-reliant vigor in his sinewy frame, had caused women of many nations to remember his passing.

"It wouldn't do you any good to know her name, Bert," he said. "She's my private stock."

"You mean she was private stock." A voice with another Yankee intonation cut in. Mac turned to the private next to him—a handsome stripling of the devil-may-care breed, a man to laugh at both death and women. The other went on with a blandly taunting grin. "Her name's Marie, isn't it, Mac?"

Mac stared at him in open surprise. "How do you know, Griff?"

"You talked in your sleep last night," acknowledged Griff shamelessly. "I guess you must have been dreamin' about her."

"Well, what if I was?" returned Mac. "She's worth dreaming about."

It was easy to discern from the bantering familiarity of their tones that here were two men whose comradeship had been closely knit together by many a hard-fought combat and unnerving hardship. After the Anglo-Saxon manner they masked their mutual liking under a flippant badinage.

"It's nice to know something about a dame," Griff went on jauntily, "before you meet her and——"

"What makes you think you're going to meet her?" Mac growled. His face grew serious for once. Obviously this woman was not to be taken lightly—not after a trying march.

ATTIC LOVER ON STAND IN TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—UP—Freedom from the self-consciousness which characterized his testimony at his own trial for murder, Otto Sanhuber today told as a witness at the trial of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, charged with the slaying of her husband, of episodes during his garret wooing of the woman.

Sanhuber, notorious as the 'attic sweetheart" of the accused widow, smiled frequently at the jury as he related incidents in his companionship with Mrs. Oesterreich in Milwaukee.

The witness declared he had once discussed his "problem," his asserted relationship with Mrs. Oesterreich, with the husband, Fred, wealthy Milwaukee garment manufacturer who was shot down in his Los Angeles home eight years ago.

He said he had told Oesterreich that it was his desire to solve the problem, but that he could "never achieve it."

Sanhuber, glancing occasionally toward Mrs. Oesterreich who sat stolidly in the courtroom avoiding his gaze, told how he went for a trip to Chicago and St. Louis with the woman.

When they returned to Milwaukee, Sanhuber said he took up his abode in the attic of the Oesterreich residence, sleeping for two years in a child's bed there under the impression that the manufacturer did not know of his presence.

Opposing counsel fought repeatedly over the admissibility of Sanhuber's testimony. Sanhuber was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the slaying, but was freed under the Statute of Limitations.

42 Injured When Balcony Of Store Falls

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 11—UP—One hundred and fifty women and children attracted by a dollar dish sale, were thrown into wild disorder today when a balcony of the Rhodes-Jennings department store collapsed under their weight.

Forty-two were injured, six of them seriously.

Someone turned on an automatic sprinkler system during the height of the confusion, when clouds of dust rolled from windows and doors of the building. Many thought a fire had occurred and fainted.

Firemen, police and volunteer citizens worked for more than an hour clearing the debris and searching for possible bodies.

EL CERRITO PURCHASES TRUCK

Acceptance of a truck for the street department caused a verbal argument between Councilmen Phil A. Lee and Peter Larsen Monday night at a meeting of the El Cerrito city council.

The truck was finally accepted by the city after two votes were taken.

The city awarded th econtract for the truck to the Fageol motor truck company, with the proviso that it would be delivered through Earl Corey, El Cerrito auto dealer, who would collect the commission.

A dispute over the commission led the motor company to deliver the truck personally to the city.

However, last night Corey informed the council by letter that the truck could be considered as delivered through him.

First motion for the acceptance of the truck was lost, with Councilmen Hans Nissen and E. E. O'Brien voting aye, and Councilmen Larsen, Lee and Beck refusing to vote. City Attorney T. H. DeLap had informed the council that if the matter was taken to court the city would not only have to pay for the truck, but also the court costs.

On the second vote, the city decided to accept the truck. Councilmen Larsen, Nissen, O'Brien and Lee voted for the move ,while Mayor J. R. Beck declined to vote.

First reading of the poultry ordinance providing that not more than fifty chickens, geese and ducks or poultry of any kind can be kept within the city limits within five hundred feet of any dwelling was passed by the council.

The ordinance also provides that anyone keeping over fifty of any kind of poultry at present will not be affected unless they cease operation for a period of 180 days.

Report of Councilman Phil A. Lee that a resident on Norvell street between Stockton and Eureka avenues had received a shipment of grain which was full of bugs and they were multiplying so fast as to cause a nuisance was referred to Lee with instructions to exterminate the nuisance.

On the recommendation of Mayor J. R. Beck the council ordered that $45 worth of poison grain be purchased for the extermination of the squirrels.

On a report of City Attorney T. H. DeLap that the title company stated that the city was not liable for the street assessment on the park in the Berkeley Country Club Terrace amounting to over $2400 the council instructed DeLap to notify the bonding company that they would not pay the assessment.

Bids for the installation of a gasoline pump and tank for gasoline, lubricating oil and coaloil will be received by the council at its meeting Monday, August 25.

No action was taken on the request of Councilman Hans M. Nissen that a new system of street numbering be passed as the council had changed the system a year ago and most of the residents had not put up the new numbers.

Nissen said a number of merchants had requested the change and that the numbers should start at the county line instead of the Santa Fe tracks.

On the recommendation of Councilman Peter Larsen the position of truckman paying $185 and held by Gus Christ was abolished starting September 1 was passed by a vote of three to two. Following was the vote: Ayes, Councilmen, Larsen, Nissen and Beck, noes, Lee and O'Brien.

Mayor J. R. Beck announced that the council starting last evening after the council meeting would meet as a board of equilization.

TOKYO PLANE IN CRASH IN NORTH

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 11.—UP—The jinx that has pursued owners of the Tokyo bound plane "Pacific Era" since it left a Holland plant five years ago struck again today when the big monoplane crashed at Ladner Field.

Neither Robert Wark nor Eddie Brown, co-pilots, was seriously injured when the undercarriage of the ship was demolished, but Wark did receive burises.

The plane had been at the municipal airport since Sunday afternoon when its hop from Tacoma, Wash., to Whitehorse, Alaska, was interrupted by a clogged gas line. Wark and Brown decided conditions at Ladner Field were more favorable for a full-load takeoff to Whitehorse, scheduled refueling point enroute to Tokio, and moved the plane. The crash occurred as they attempted to land.

To Confer

It was not known definitely tonight what the fate of the flight would be. Wark and Brown were expected to confer with their manager tomorrow.

The Pacific Era's career has been surrounded by indirect tragedy. It was built at the Fokker factory in Holland for an Argentine flier who planned a trip around the world. He abandoned the ship and it was purchased at Halifax by Major C. O. Osborne, British pilot, who planned to enter the Dole flight to Hawaii. Osborne fell off an ocean liner while enroute from England to Canada to take possession.

Then Major D. R. McLaren, Canadian pilot, bought the plane, intending to enter the Dole flight. But it was so different a craft from those he had flown that before he had mastered it the Dole flight was on.

Tragedy Trail

For a time the plane remained in a Seattle hangar. Major George Hubert Wilkins held an option on it for use in his 1927 Arctic expedition but allowed it to expire.

Miss Ruth Rhodes of Seattle, was killed in a hunting accident the day before she was to have attempted an endurance flight in the plane last year.

Brown and Wark bought the plane last May. Originally they planned a non-stop flight to Tokyo, but then decided upon four refuelings enroute. They took off from Tacoma at 11:28 a. m. yesterday.

NEW CHUTE RECORD IS MADE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 11—UP—A new world altitude record of 28,000 feet was believed to have been established by Jimmy Donahue, Colorado Springs parachute jumper, at the closing of the three day Pikes Peak air meet today.

Donahue, who has more than 200 jumps to his credit, descended without the aid of an oxygen helmet, despite the fact he carried one. It took more than half an hour to make the descent. He was picked up unconscious, bleeding badly at the nose and mouth.

He went up in a Lockheed-Vega monoplane piloted by O. M. Mosler. They traveled nearly 100 miles to attain an altitude of 25,000 feet. At that height the altimeters failed, but Mosler said he was certain they climbed 3,000 feet more before Donahue leaped into space.

Donahue used two 'chutes. Officials said it was the first time they recalled an altitude jump being made without an oxygen helmet. They were at a loss to understand why Donahue failed to use his. The flier's condition was serious, physicians said, and he was not allowed to be interviewed.

The jumper carried a government barograph, which will be sent to Washington for an official check.

The offical parachute jump record of 26,000 feet is held by an army flier.

Onetah Tribe Entertained With 'Feed'

Members of the Onetah Tribe of Redmen and the Onetah Council, degree of Pocahontas were given a real treat last night in the form of a real old Indian dinner composed of corn and venison .

The venison was supplied by the Tribe's nimrod, Postmaster John A. Miller, who bagged the first deer of any Richmond man this season.

The feast followed a short business session over which Emmett Daley, sachem ,presided.

During the dinner, the gathering was entertained by solos sung by Pearson Buchanan, a close friend of [illegible] B. Hinkley, who is making him a visit. Buchanan, a fine singer, appeared at the meeting through the courtesy of Hinkley.

Buchanan and Hinkley also amused the members with after dinner talks.

B. Weisgerber accompanied Buchanan on the piano, during the latter's solos.

Joe Matteucci was chairman of the cooking committee and was the recipient of many thanks for the lovely dinner. He was assisted by Emmett Daley, Roy Voght and C. E. Sutliffe.

WILL IMPROVE LOCAL BRICK WORKS

According to an announcement yesterday by E. E. Ellison, sales manager for the Richmond Pressed Brick company, approximately $50,000 is being expended for new equipment at the plant. Of this new equipment, probably the most important piece to be installed will be a huge crane, built on an overhead runway and capable of carrying large loads of clay or other materials.

The regular crew has been augmented by a number of carpenters and workmen who are already at work laying the foundation and installing the new machinery, Ellison announced.

He declared that when the repairs and additions are completed the capacity of the plant will be increased 100 percent, the company having been working on a reduced scale the past several months.

It is believed however, that within the next two weeks, the plant will be ready to operate almost to capacity.

At the present time 35 or 40 men are employed at the works, but it is anticipated that this number will be increased to 75 or 80 when the new equipment is put into operation.
